What's Happening in Richfield in November

SHOP LOCAL IN NOVEMBER

As fall transitions into the holiday season, Richfield offers fantastic opportunities to shop small, support neighborhood creators, and check off your holiday gift list early. Two of Richfield's best holiday traditions are back!

First up, mark your calendar for the annual Richfield Fall Boutique at the Richfield Community Center! The boutique runs Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 7-8 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wander through two floors of local artists, crafters, food makers, and other creative artisans; don't forget your raffle tickets for the gorgeous hand-made quilt raffled off by the Quilters Club! In addition to multiple food trucks onsite, the Richfield Baking Club will also be selling homemade treats.

Then, starting Saturday, Nov. 14, the Farmers Market moves indoors! Every Saturday Nov. 14 through Dec. 19, stop by the Community Center for the Richfield Winter Market to pick up early holiday gifts, including crafts, specialty food items, jewelry, and more. Open 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. weekly.

Skip the crowded malls this November and enjoy shopping local!

SAY GOODBYE TO HALLOWEEN

Out with the old and in with the new! Make space for your winter holiday decorations by taking your pumpkins and jack-o'-lanterns to Richfield's annual Pumpkin Smash.

On Saturday, Nov. 7, find out if your pumpkin can drop the farthest or splat the best. Family-friendly and FREE; a great way to use up those pumpkins and help the earth at the same time! Pumpkins will be composted afterward, so you'll be helping Mother Nature by bringing only pumpkins that are free of paint, glitter, candle wax, and stickers.

This is also an opportunity to pay it forward: Bring dry goods and hygiene products to help restock the Richfield High School Resources Room! Drop by Veterans Park any time 10 a.m. to noon and SMASH! THAT! PUMPKIN!

SEASONAL GREENERY SALES OPEN AT VETERANS PARK

Once those fall decorations are out of the way, it's time to bring on the holiday greens! Trees, greens, and accessories sales begin at Veterans Park on Saturday, Nov. 21.

Richfield's longstanding favorite greens provider B&J Evergreen (30 years and counting) will be back this holiday season with Balsam, Fraser, Blue spruce, white pine, and many other varieties. Trees go up to 16 feet, so there's something to fit any space. They also carry wreaths of all sizes, garland, swags porch pots, and even dogwood and birch sticks for decorating.

SNAP A PIC WITH SANTA AND DOUBLE YOUR IMPACT

- Looking for a way to give back during this month of Thanksgiving? You can do that AND have a great family outing! Karl Herman State Farm Insurance at 66th and Penn will be holding their annual grocery-store giftcard drive on Saturday, Nov. 21. Bring a $10 gift card from Cub, Aldi, Target, etc. (heck, bring two or three!) to drop off at Karl's office from 10 a.m. to noon, and Karl will match all donations.

  And while you're there, get your pics with Santa! Karl is hosting Northland Santa for FREE pics with your donation of a gift card. Enjoy some treats while you're there...a perfect way to kick off the holiday season.

RICHFIELD SPOTLIGHT: FRENCHMAN's PUB

Local legend Frenchman's Pub grabbed some well-earned screen time when it was featured on Fox 9's Taste Buds this fall! Host Stephanie Hansen and celebrity guest Melissa Peterman made a stop at Frenchman's during their Twin Cities dive bar tour, shining a light on the laid-back character and great eats that neighborhood regulars have loved for years.

If you need an excuse to stop by this month, the kitchen has rolled out a serious contender for your new favorite burger. This month's featured Burger of the Month is the Zachtacular: Grilled ground beef topped with melty provolone, zesty giardiniera peppers, and a creamy garlic aioli. Pair it with a basket of fries or tots for peak fall comfort food!

Frenchman's is also one of the best spots around to catch Vikings games. Friendly crowd, great atmosphere...and don't miss the halftime Jell-O shots.
